Why BAMBOO?

The global concern of pollution and climate changes need sustainable business solutions and products that are biodegradable and eco-friendly. Bamboo is one such product that is:

- Renewable
- Releases more oxygen
- Grows up easily in any climatic conditions
- Needs least or no fertilizer or pesticide.

→ This makes bamboo products more organic, less allergic, and non-toxic.

A versatile material, bamboo can be used to make many products including a wide range of:

- Kitchenware
- Home décor
- Accessories
- Lifestyle and living.

→ Making these a part of lifestyle is a solution to many issues whether on an individual level or global.

The rising consciousness among people regarding the damages to the environment by businesses and individual practices has led to a change in their taste.

→ People are now concerned buyers and prefer organic and eco-friendly products.

With such a shift in the preferences of people, handmade bamboo products are the best way to cater for the market demand and meet the need of the hour i.e.

♦ Save the Planet Earth. ♦

→ India being among the world's major bamboo producer, still imports bamboo products.

The unexplored resources of bamboo can be and, to some extent, is being used by the skillful, artistic hands of Tripura, who turn those raw pieces into awestruck magnificent pieces that are surely a prized possession.

I wanted to give the Bamboo baskets as return gifts for my house warming function. I reached out to Bamboowala on 28th Jan and needed 101 baskets by 12th Jan in Bangalore. Though Swatik was initially sceptical of the short time, he actually promised to deliver. Baskets actually reached Bangalore on the 6th of Feb, much earlier than the agreed upon date. And the quality was awesome. They were a hit with my friends and relatives. Bamboowala was very professional from the get go. Swatik sent out a pdf catalogue with every product and its price based on the order quantity. There was no ambiguity. Loved the service provided by SS Bamboowala!!!
